I am traveling to Liberia, West Africa in May for a two week mission's trip with Serve the Children. With a year of nursing school completed, I hope to provide immunizations to 100 students in addition to other basic medical care. Liberia is among the poorest nations in the world, with much of its infrastructure destroyed during a 14 year long civil war. Serve the Children provides free education and medical care to hundreds of students in three different schools in the country. Please partner with me in this venture. Your support is important!
